

The 10th Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver ruled telemarketers don't have a First Amendment right to call consumers with sales pitches when that right supersedes consumers' right to privacy.

I am a resident of Indiana and have benefited greatly from our telephone privacy list. Please do not weaken our state's law.